Testimonials from Clients & Co-workers

Nathan, was an energetic and tenacious member of the Dead Boy Detectives Art Department, his ability to produce top notch presentation packages was a huge asset on this Pilot.

Nathan has an excellent attitude and his constant willingness to help solve any problem made him a valued member of our team.

I needed a website quick and Nathan delivered. He is practical and fast, but the quality of his work exceeded my expectations. His process and keen observation made sharing my ideas easy. Nathan utilized my vision and took it further. He can work under a budget, providing exceptional value. Nathan brings creativity and experience to create a wonderful product full of value added features.

Nathan,
Thanks for showing me the ropes and for being that man that gets everything done.

Was nice getting to know you a bit, and best of luck on everything you got going on in the future

Nathan is a ninja graphic and website designer, amongst a multitude of other amazing talents. I have worked with him and his company many times over the past twenty years. He always comes through with amazing work, and at a very reasonable cost. You will not be disappointed having Nathan working on a project, or as a part of any team.

I’ve worked with Nathan on a variety of branding, graphic design and flash projects. I’ve found his work to be excellent quality and a great value. He is a good choice for a one-stop shop web site project as he also has the ability to set-up, code and manage a content management system.

Nathan is both an artist and a scientist! He uses his incredible artistic talent with his keen analytical mind to add value and insight to everything he devotes himself to. He has over 20 years experience as a digital creator, art director, user experience expert, graphic design, UI design, multi-media, web and web application design, digital marketing expert, illustrator, graphic artist and start up pro. We've worked together on many projects.

Of note is Nathan's UX, graphic/UI/web design, branding contribution which was pivotal in pushing TeeTimes America's brand from regional to internationally recognized. Nathan is extremely creative and very dedicated to delivering high quality, high value work. I look forward to working and collaborating with him in the near future.

As the Chief Product Officer of InMotion Global, Inc., I was Nathan’s direct supervisor while he was employed by us in his role as UI/UX Designer for our product, AscendTMS. In this capacity, Nathan consistently exemplified his intelligence, creativity, and thoroughness in the work he did for us.

Nathan was always very thoughtful about his approach to UI/UX design and would bring myriads of ideas on how to improve our application for the betterment of our users’ experience.From designing a new updated look for our main product (a multi-tenant, SaaS web application) including new fonts, icons and a “cleaner” look, to establishing design specifications for consistency in use of colors, buttons and functionality across the app, to suggesting a new UI paradigm for presenting data, Nathan’s abundant creativity was always evident. He presented ideas not only for immediate implementation in our application, but also far-reaching ideas of where we could take our app in the future.

Nathan was always very thorough in his work and would endeavor to consider and understand all available user perspectives and variables when designing UI/UX elements & functionality. He was not afraid to canvass many project stakeholders for their input, ideas and suggestions before considering all aspects of a design.

Nathan was a team player who would present many variations of his designs for team feedback. He was comfortable speaking with anyone in the company, from the CEO to developers & software engineers to customer service and sales reps. Nathan also exhibited the ability to be self-directed when necessary. Even when given broad guidelines as to his next project, he would find specific tasks on his own to move the project forward.

In summary, I believe Nathan’s broad experiences and abundant creativity give him a unique perspective that would bring new ideas to any organization. Please feel free to reach out to me or to our HR department for any further information.

Best regards,

I am pleased to recommend Nathan Fenwick, with whom I worked closely as a Frontend Developer in our software company. Nathan's role as a UI/UX Designer and his expertise in Agile practices greatly contributed to our projects.

Nathan consistently demonstrated creativity and attention to detail in his UI/UX work. He had a keen eye for design aesthetics and always aimed to improve the user experience. We collaborated effectively, resulting in efficient development processes and high-quality end products.

In addition to his design skills, Nathan excelled in project management. His proficiency in Agile methodologies helped streamline our workflows, fostering collaboration and adaptability within the team. His facilitation of stand-ups and sprint planning was instrumental in project success.

Nathan's strength in digital product design was evident in his ability to create user-friendly interfaces that exceeded user expectations. He also had a knack for problem-solving, approaching complex challenges with a systematic approach and innovative solutions.

Nathan is a dedicated professional who brings valuable UI/UX design skills, Agile expertise, and problem-solving abilities to any software development team. His contributions have consistently added value to our projects, and I highly recommend him for any team seeking a well-rounded and capable colleague.
